

New Beginnings

Soprano

Morning moon fades from sight
Rising sun brings the dawn's first light
The world awakes with a song of life
And a new beginning

Winter yields to the warmth of spring
Fledgling bird from the nest takes wing
Life reveals all the change it brings
With a new beginning

For in this moment there's a promise made
For hope renewed on this new day
Moving gently with the winds of change
We carry on

Mountain stream born of sun on snow
Wind your way to the fields below
And join in time where the river flows
And a new beginning

For in this moment there's a promise made
For hope renewed on this new day
Moving gently with the winds of change
We carry on

Lightning flash cross a darkened sky
Thunder crash in the still of night
With the rain, a gift of life
(And a new) And a new beginning
(Like the sunrise) Like the sun...
Like the wind takes a new direction
We carry on, carry on...

Alto

Morning moon fades from sight
Rising sun brings the dawn's first light
The world awakes with a song of life
And a new beginning

Winter yields to the warmth of spring
Fledgling bird from the nest takes wing
Life reveals all the change it brings
With a new beginning

For in this moment there's a promise made
For hope renewed on this new day
Moving gently with the winds of change
We carry on

Mountain stream born of sun on snow
Wind your way to the fields below
And join in time where the river flows
And a new beginning

For in this moment there's a promise made
For hope renewed on this new day
Moving gently with the winds of change
We carry on

Lightning flash cross a darkened sky
Thunder crash in the still of night
With the rain, a gift of life
And a new, a new beginning
Like the sunrise, brings a new day
Like the wind takes a new direction
We carry on...